We were a group of 7 and the waiter explained the menu which was on a big caulk board on a wall. The mains seemed pricy but once you include the entrees and the desert which are includedthen it become very reasonably priced. Its a BYOB, which always helps and the food was perfectly cooked. From the Calamari and spano as entrees to the pork chops and eggplant pies...all was great. The deserts, a tray which include... read more. What Retta Koeppe doesn't like about Petros:

I and my man (both Greek), although we would try, as we came out of the holiday and we had disappeared a part of the house. we not only have a bad attitude from them, but also accepted to pick us up. while applying the prices of the thinning. the food cost pita, saganaki, calamari, tzaziki lammschürzen and fritten. we have garnel for and there were only pieces inside and no sauce. very disappointed, I'm sorry I would... A visit to Petros is particularly valuable due to the extensive range of coffee and tea specialties, You can take a break at the bar with a freshly tapped beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks. They also offer light Mediterranean dishes available, Also, the Greek specialties are also very popular with the guests of the restaurant.
