Poplar Pub is a unique spot that has received mixed reviews from customers. While some were very pleased with the delicious food, friendly service, and enjoyable atmosphere, others were extremely disappointed with the slow service and inefficiency of the staff. The Sunday brunch seems to be a highlight for many patrons, with made-to-order omelettes and fresh waffles being a favorite. The food received high praise, with items like fish and chips, garlic fries, and chocolate Bundt cake being standout dishes. The large space and variety of activities, like pool tables, make it a great place for a casual hangout. However, some customers were put off by the loudness of the bar, making it difficult to have conversations. Overall, while some had great experiences at Poplar Pub, others were disappointed with the service and noise level, showing that your experience may vary depending on when you visit.
