The place from Chicago offers 286 different dishes and drinks on the menu at an average price of $16.8. What User likes about Roots Handmade Pizza Second City:

This was my first time going to the Old Town location of Roots and we loved it just as much as we've loved other locations! The garlic monkey bread is a must, and the chef's specials were AMAZING albeit a bit pricier than the other pies on the menu. I have a feeling I will be craving the French onion soup pizza I had for months to come read more. The restaurant and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physiological disabilities. What User doesn't like about Roots Handmade Pizza Second City:

I came in and the desk person was on the phone for over minutes. No one offered to say hello or help me. When I finally got seated with my friend who had arrived earlier, no one talked to us. The noise level was very loud; there were way too many children and before anyone could talk to us, we left. No one asked why or offered to move our table. We did not eat there, nor would I go back read more. At Roots Handmade Pizza Second City in Chicago, you get a diverse brunch for breakfast and you can at will indulge, You shouldn't miss the opportunity to try the crispy and crunchy pizza, baked straight out of the oven in an traditional manner.
