I've been dropping by IWC for a few months now. Good service and good lattes. Today, during a rush, I ordered an avocado toast that got lost in the shuffle. This has never happened before, and once they realized, they immediately made it right they made the avo toast but also made me another drink and offered me a cookie free of charge. The owner also came out to apologize. I wasn't upset at all, but it's clear from... read more. What G A doesn't like about Iw Coffee:

The chai is good but only because it is David Rio's chai. I don't like that they aren't upfront about it. I mean, they even use the EXACT same description as on David Rio's website. Give Mr. Rio his kudos!For those wondering, David Rio has several chai bars in San Francisco so you can get your fix there if visiting. You'll find a myriad of chai choices along with their sweetness/spice levels. read more. The restaurant also offers the possibility to sit outside and have something in beautiful weather, and there is free WiFi. The premises on site are accessible, and therefore no problem for clientele with wheelchairs or physiological disabilities. At Iw Coffee in Palm Desert, there's a diverse brunch in the morning where you can eat as much as you want treat yourself, The visitors of the establishment also appreciate the large selection of differing coffee and tea specialities that the restaurant has to offer. One also grills South American here with fresh fish, meat, as well as corn and rice, Moreover, the drinks menu of this gastropub offers a good and especially comprehensive assortment of beers from the region and the world that are definitely worth a try.
