She?s very welcoming and you can tell she puts her heart and soul into her food that makes me coming back about twice a month! My whole family comes here now. The food is amazing, she accommodates to the pescatarians also by making a delicious meatless legumes! I?ve tried a lot on the menu and everything is great! I happen to stumble into here 1 day trying a new Haitian restaurant and her pikliz sold me! The best in... read more. What User doesn't like about Sabine's Gout Creole:

We were disappointed. I am a frequent red snapper eater. We ordered two plates of fried snapper. The fish tasted old and fishy. Not the quality of the Haitian food we usually eat. The fish was seasoned, but something was missing. It did not taste like a fish that was well cleaned with limes and marinated in limes. Also, Haitian fried fish is normally fried in a nice coat of seasoned flour, which was not the case with... read more.
