I grade buffets on the best of their good and to my taste and relative to other similar places and price. Chinese buffets everywhere usually do something very well and part of the experience is figuring out what it is. Quality of the food here ranges from typical frozen fried food to fresh prepared items. A good bit of variety, especially in terms of seafood given the location. I am a bit of a picky eater but I typic... read more. What Cayla Madaris doesn't like about New China Buffet:

No, no, no. If I was that person and not starving, I'd have just told them I wasn't staying after one look around the buffet. Small selection. There was enough that was edible so we stayed but I was so disappointed. The sushi didn't look good at all and there was a fly. Veins in the stuffed shrimp and peel and eat. Stuff was old and greasy or dry. Sweet and sour chicken was literally inedible, so tough and gross even... read more. The diner and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physical disabilities. In New China Buffet from Batesville, you can enjoy versatile, fine Chinese cuisine that's authentically prepared in a wok, and you can look forward to the fine typical seafood cuisine. But the undisputed highlight of this establishment is the fine Sushi such as Maki and Te-Maki.
