In the sea of choices that you have at Long Beach Exchange, this establishment rises above the rest. I ordered suggestion #2 spicy thin pork belly, brown rice, and Ssamjang sauce. It was outstanding. The meat was perfectly cooked, the sauce was strong but not overbearing, and the selection of toppings that I selected made for an amazing combination. I also ordered a side of Mandu dumplings. They were crispy on the ou... read more. In nice weather you can even eat in the outdoor area, And into the accessible rooms also come clientele with wheelchairs or physiological disabilities. What Peter Farejowicz doesn't like about Marinate Korean Bbq: Marinate is one of the food stalls available at the LBX food hall. The concept is pretty neat in that it's Korean style bowls or burritos. However, while the idea is interesting, the taste was just all right. The bulgogi burrito I tried tasted fine but it was too heavy on the lettuce. Considering there is lots of awesome Korean food around LA, this one fell a bit short for me. read more. At Marinate Korean Bbq in Long Beach, flavorful grilled food is freshly prepared on an open flame and garnished with fine sides, Additionally, lovers of Korean cuisine will be well catered for at the restaurant with menus like Bap, Kimchi or Jjigae.
