I went to this location for the first time . I was looking at the menu and asked the guy 2 simple questions and very rudely he told me I needed to learn how to wait . He was banging salsa in a bag and I told him they are simple question you could answer . Then he repeated his self . I will never give this business my hard earned money ! Maybe management needs to replace him , they might get more business. read more. Look forward to the diverse, fine Mexican cuisine, traditionally prepared with corn, beans and chilies (hot peppers).
