One thing I love, is going to small restaurants out side of what I would call the big city . We stumbled across this place the other just around lunch time and the parking lot was full, so we decided to stop in. Glad we did. It is a small spot, great staff with a great set up. The food was served buffet style. We had the option of enchiladas, rice, beans and chili relleno. The relleno was something else!! That was pr... read more. The diner and its premises are wheelchair accessible and thus usable with a wheelchair or physical limitations, Depending on the weather, you can also sit outside and be served. What User doesn't like about El Sombrero:

can not give an accurate assessment because Sunday is a buffet day. for the midday buffet there are more definitive options. a little overpriced for what they get. read more. A visit to El Sombrero is particularly valuable due to the extensive selection of coffee and tea specialties, Particularly, many customers are looking forward to the diverse, fine Mexican cuisine.
