What User likes about Orphan Annie's Grill: A popular hunt for locals for good reason: the food is excellent. The proportions are very generous and we had to pack food home. I would normally not recommend going to a place when they are busy (weekend evenings), but here is an exception from the rule. They had live music when we visited Friday night, a singer guitarist. The atmosphere was a repulsion back at a time when restaurant owners not only worked proudly... read more. What User doesn't like about Orphan Annie's Grill:

Met family for dinner while visiting from Oregon. Menu was interesting, kind of a mixed bag of items. Decided on the Korean beef, no rice and kimchi/pickled veggies on the side. My food was amazing. Husband ordered the chicken fried steak. He thought it was less than average, big portion but a strange breading. Served with mashed potatoes and gravy, he said all he could taste was gravy. I love the history of the plac... read more. Just eating and drinking is too simple for you? Then a visit to this sports bar is just right: in addition to large and small snacks and meals you can watch the latest football matches, tennis or Formula 1, Furthermore, the drinks menu in this restaurant is impressive and offers a good and extensive diversity of beers from the area and from worldwide, which are definitely worth a try. Here they also cook South American fresh fish, meat, as well as corn and rice, Many visitors find it especially great that they can try the versatile, flavorful Chinese cuisine.
