First time visit for me. My husband had eaten there several times before so the visit was at his suggestion. It is a typical small town café. Not very big, full of local decor playing country music. Staff was very friendly helpful, willing to actually convers. Standard hamburger was ordered with fries (these were the very thin kind) sweet tea.

I have to say the hamburger was large, very thick patty (guessing about 1/... read more. The premises on site are wheelchair accessible and can also be used with a wheelchair or physiological disabilities, and there is free WLAN. What Joshua Duff doesn't like about The Cafe In Justin:

This place I initially liked a lot. But they have changed to menus that have no price on it. So when you order you do not know price of food. Plus in past when then ordered my omelette grits was included now it is 2.99 extra they secretly did that with out telling me. Will not be back. Updated was notified that you have scan a QR code to look at prices. I still know of no eating establishment period that does not show... read more.
