I can't be too critical of them because I'm just so dang tired of Scooters and Starbucks everywhere. Happy to see a change of scenery. There were some essentials missing from my java jaunt here though. They were out of quiche. I ordered some bread but they didn't have butter. My friend asked for a cup of water and they just gave them water with no ice. No silverware or plate. Come on folks. Come on. read more. When the weather conditions is nice you can also have something outside, and there is free WLAN. What Abby M doesn't like about Village Grinder:

This place is good but needs some work. The last few times I've been in, the baristas have been so preoccupied with other customers (who I assume are regulars) or the other barista working that my drink was either made wrong or they just forgot to make it. This place is definitely homey and I do like what I've gotten in the past that has been correct, but recently my orders have been incorrect and taste bad. I will g... read more.
