I've tried several Thai places in the area with mixed results (I have my favorite from where I used to live, standards are high), but Eat Thai was a pleasant surprise. Everything tasted good and fresh. -The green curry was good, not too oily and with a delicate flavor. The eggplant was silky and delicious. -The basil fried rice was really tasty and had plenty of basil in it which I appreciated. -The pad thai was tast... read more. What Rich M doesn't like about Eat Thai:

Bad taste and severely overpriced! The Pad Thai tastes ghetto, like it's made with ketchup. The Fries rices has zero favor, it was like generic rice you would get at a cheap Chinese restaurant. Never again. read more. In the kitchen of Eat Thai in Sterling Heights, traditional meals are prepared with typical Asian spices fine, The inventive fusion of different dishes with fresh and partially daring products is highly valued by the customers - a nice example of Asian Fusion. If you're the type for more exotic meals, then try the Thai meals.
