Great curry, great pulao, great prices! This is now my favorite Indian restaurant in the Triangle; they have a wide variety of dishes, generous helpings, and staff that care about their food. There's a ton of parking around the grocery store and behind the other side of the plaza. read more. In nice weather you can even have something in the outdoor area. What User doesn't like about Mirchi's Indian Kitchen:

Worst Indian food . Wouldn't advise anyone to eat out from here. I had ordered gobi Manchurian and biryani for my family. The gobi Manchurian was raw and the spices were not cooked properly. The biryani was the worst. I had even called them and said if they wanted me to cook at home as the food was not cooked properly. One of the worst Indian restaurants in this area. Please stay away. Do not go by the positive review... read more.
