What User likes about Teriyaki Town:

I ordered the chicken teriyaki yakisoba plate which was part huge. I couldn't even eat anything, so I had to take the rest home. also a large plate of gyoza (10) not shown. the food was fresh, hot and delicious. I want to go back here. read more. What User doesn't like about Teriyaki Town:

Tried the beef yakisoba here today, heard they had good prices and large portions. They gave 2/3 of a plate full of food, maybe 2oz of meat. Not a large portion, i would call a FULL plate a REGULAR portion. The meat was trimmed and not fatty, so that was the upside. The noodles though, were really watery, maybe not strained completely if at all before plating, felt like more of a soup and actually made the plate get... read more. In the kitchen of Teriyaki Town in Portland, traditional meals are prepared with typical Asian spices tasty, and it's made with lots of freshly harvested vegetables, fish and meat, healthy Japanese meals cooked. Korean meals like Kimchi, Bibimbap and Jjigae, which are traditional, always find their way onto the menu and the tables of the customers, Furthermore, the customers love the successful combination of different dishes with new and partially experimental products - a good example of successful Asian Fusion.
