One of the best Pho you ever get in the area. I had food in Vietnamese restaurants all over the country and compared it to the best out there. The ambience is great and the owners take care of the quality of food and hospitality. All you choose from the menu is amazingly good. Look for her house special, willon with roast beef.

The food is pretty good, but the experience is met or miss. The first time it went well, and my wife's meat dish was 75% bone. During the second time, we glued dirty dishes with dried noodles, covered a broken high chair with sticky goop, and a spicy waitress who refused to speak more than one word. Food is good, but it's not worth it. read more.
