The restaurant from Tulsa offers 17 different meals and drinks on the card at an average $19.8. What Blake McDonald likes about Raising Cane's Chicken Fingers:

Cane's is always good, especially the sauce! The only reason I didn't give 5 stars is because they occasionally forget to include the extra sauces when you ask for them, which cost something like $0.50 each. Always get the toast with butter on both sides! read more. What Dean Hopkins doesn't like about Raising Cane's Chicken Fingers:

Canes chicken and toast is great. However today when we stopped in to eat I was extremely disappointed. They claimed they had run out of trays so they were serving all order in the to go containers. The fries we received weren't even what we should have gotten if we were carrying out and only about a fourth of what we get on the normal trays. However we were eating in and we should have gotten the same as if we had b... read more. The extensive range of coffee and tea specialties greatly enhances the value of a visit to Raising Cane's Chicken Fingers, The dishes are usually prepared fast and fresh for you.
