I like this place. Cosy and friendly. You have a nice small selection of local and imported beers; I'm a big fan of the London Pride. I wish they had Newcastle! I had the fish n chips that was pretty good tbh. They have a good number of indoor seating and a cute garden with a TV. read more. When the weather is nice you can also eat and drink outside, and there is no-charge WiFi. What User doesn't like about The Atlantic Crossing:

Service is non-existent. Was charged more for my meal than what it said on the menu. Food was good but not that good. No physical menus and poor atmosphere make for a lousy place to do anything other than get drunk. read more. A journey through Great Britain without getting on a plane is absolutely possible when it comes to culinary delights: The Atlantic Crossing in Seattle traditionally shines for instance with Fish and Chips, mashed potatoes or roast with Yorkshire Pudding and for dessert a delicious Trifle. You can also look forward to the typical scrumptious French cuisine. When you're not so ravenous, you can just treat yourself to one of the tasty sandwiches, a small salad or another snack. At the bar, you can relax with a cool beer or other alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks.
