What User likes about Modu Sushi: This beautiful, quiet and well maintained restaurant deceives at first glance from the street. Located in a small strip, you are not sure what you expect on arrival. However, after placing your order and some sip, you will be immersed in a beautiful, careful, formally inspired meal that will let you smile and get to the top. The servers are friendly, and you catch looking at the fully equipped and busy kitchen from t... read more. The diner and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus usable with a wheelchair or physical limitations, and there is no-charge WiFi.

What Clarence doesn't like about Modu Sushi:

This was our second time ordering from here and got very basic rolls. My husband got his, I got mine- both different. They also added miso soup in our bag. The sushi tasted fine, however we both ended up with food poisoning, and have spent all day sick in the worst way possible. read more. The guests love it when Asian cuisine meets a bit of creativity. That's exactly what you can expect at the Modu Sushi from Halfmoon, with its unconventional Asian fusion cuisine - the right mix of what you know meets the adventurous world of fusion cuisine, and easily digestible Japanese meals are being made with lots of freshly harvested vegetables, fish and meat.
