Decided to try out a Peruvian place not too far from home. The place itself is really small with limited seating so not a place for big groups. When we got in, there wasn't a table for the three of us but the staff put another small table for us to sit, and was pretty fast to get our order and set us up with our drinks. We ordered the lomo saltado and pollo a la brasa, they also gave us a creamy jalapeño sauce that w... read more. The diner is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physiological disabilities. What Sebastian G doesn't like about Rikas Peruvian Cuisine:

This place is nice but it needs some improvement. There is no restroom in the restaurant, they give you bread but they can't heat it up because they don't have a oven so it's cold bread. Also the tallarín verde was delicious except they didn't give the same dish as it was in the menu picture, they only gave me like 5 fries on the side of the plate and they were cold but spaghetti and meat was good. Other than that it... read more. Rikas Peruvian
