Great community market with good variety of local farmers and vendors. This market is well spread out with ample parking. The crowd is even keel and easy to navigate allowing opportunities to really get to know and chat with vendors. A great way to get fresh food and support local/small businesses. Couple cooking demonstrations, live music and a variety of cooked foods and beverages to enjoy there. This market is a mu... read more. What

Taylor Paul doesn't like about Texas Farmers' Market At Lakeline:

For being a Farmer's Market, there really weren't many fruits veggie stands (though maybe it was the time of year we went, beginning of July). The stands that did have them didn't have very much to choose from. There are plenty of booths with pastries, bread, made-to-order foods, dog treats, drinks, honey, salsa, etc. My girls loved all the samples that they got to try. Some booths were put together better than other... read more. For breakfast, you can enjoy a appetizing brunch at Texas Farmers' Market At Lakeline, freely at your own will, The guests of the restaurant are also thrilled with the extensive selection of various coffee and tea specialities that the establishment offers.
