Leeward is a pasta-centric Italian restaurant in Portland, Maine. The menu at Leeward changes seasonally, but it always features a variety of handmade pastas, as well as seafood, meat, and vegetable dishes. The ingredients are sourced from local farms and purveyors, and the dishes are cooked with a focus on technique and flavor. The dining room at Leeward is small and intimate, with a warm and inviting atmosphere. The... read more. The restaurant is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physiological disabilities. What Portland Computer Service doesn't like about Leeward:

I have been here twice, and the first time the food was excellent. The second time the food was incredibly subpar. The pork cutlet was so tough that it was entirely inedible and the pasta was the furthest from al dente that one could imagine. Perhaps it was just an off night, but with so many excellent dining options in Portland, why risk it? The best part of the night was the convenience of a parking structure being... read more. Leeward from Portland is a suitable bar to a cocktail after work, and sit with friends or alone, You'll find nice South American meals also in the menu. Additionally, you're in for typical Italian cuisine inclusive of delicious classics like pizza and pasta, and you can enjoy here tasty American menus like Burger or Barbecue.
