They specialize in yakitori which consists of grilled skewered chicken parts and oden which is a Japanese dish stewed in a light dashi broth. I am getting less squeamish about eating organs as I expand my culinary horizons.

There is a bit of a mix up with the reservation and we are asked to sit at the bar until a table opens up. The skewers here blow Honda-Ya out of the water. I wish Torihei was closer to me. The off... The restaurant and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus reachable with a wheelchair or physiological limitations, Depending on the weather, you can also sit outside and have something. What Doug L doesn't like about Torihei Yakitori Robata Dining:

Greasy greasy food. They are always busy and will put 1 1/2 hr time limit per table. Pretty typical of Japanese places to try to maximize revenue. Service is OK. If I had the choice, I would go to a different izakaya. But those choices are limited in the US. Perhaps Koshiji... better food, just as busy as Torihei. read more.
