If you had a runza, it should be one of your Nebraska experiences because you're going to find this elsewhere!

Food is good, sometimes items in the drive-thru are forgotten, such as straw or napkins. I now forgive all fast food spots, as it seems that it is something of the top reality of the company. If you are creepy as I, just ask for more, play your I'm older and eating in my car card, you'll get them with a smile... read more. The restaurant offers complimentary WiFi for its guests, And into the accessible spaces also come visitors with wheelchairs or physiological limitations. What Tammie Hine doesn't like about Runza:

Firstly, the drive-thru line is jacked up by the way it is designed. I got to the restaurant before the guy to my right, placed my order before him, and ended up in line after him; and of course he ordered everything on the menu when all I ordered was a meal. I hate it when they hand me my drink with soda dripping down the side. How hard is it to wipe that off before handing it to the customer so that person doesn't... read more.
