So far all the waffle houses I've been to in the Birmingham areas. Have had some quick and easy interactions with the employees. Very well kept places, I enjoyed the food never the less. The chocolate chip waffles and biscuit and gravy is what I would recommend tbh. And since Birmingham is such a small neighborhood you never know who you'll run in to. read more. The restaurant is accessible and can therefore also be used with a wheelchair or physiological limitations, and there is complimentary WLAN. What User doesn't like about Waffle House:

First impressions are important. When we asked if we were at the right table, the big guy who works rudely told my family to stop. The server was nice, but asked if we were willing to order, although they had not given us any menus (high mistakes, so no big mistake). The restaurant was so cold that we had to leave before we had ordered ourselves because my four-year-old was miserable. On the way out, the big guy just... read more.
