I like all the starters. They were phenomenal and quite creative. The main dishes were a little off because I expected something more than just the traditional Thai foods. Don't get me wrong, they were still good. However, the price should be reconsidered. I went to Michelin Stared restaurant and still cost less. All the drinks are light and tasty so you can enjoy your foods while not being too drunk. read more. The place also offers the possibility to sit outside and eat in pleasant weather, And into the accessible rooms also come customers with wheelchairs or physiological disabilities. What maja doesn't like about Langbaan:

Went with hubby for the tasting menu. Overall dishes were good with a couple standouts (softshell crab with crab paste hollandaise and the dessert the pastry chef gets an A+ . One of the dishes was rather bad: the jackfruit tilapia was over salted and one note in spice, lacking any brightness. Unfortunately, the experience can be added to the long list of wildly overpriced tasting menus the city has to offer. $350 for... read more. With the comprehensive selection of coffee and tea specialties, a visit to Langbaan becomes even more attractive, on the daily specials there are also a lot of Asian menus. If you favor more exotic dishes, you will surely find what you're looking for in Thai dishes, Furthermore, the customers love the successful combination of different dishes with new and partially experimental products - a nice example of successful Asian Fusion.
