They heat old food. The whole family only ate their food for the whole week because of house construction and after 3 days we all started with stomach pain, but we never suspected them because this is the USA. But we're wrong. On the 5th day we received our food delivery and one of them had a pronounced smell. I tasted it and there was an acidic taste on one of them and the sauce had the jelly like texture. I asked m... read more.
