Two of my friends and I tried this place since the restaurant we originally were going to was closed. It was a pretty home cafe-style place! We ordered at the counter after looking at the menu for a few minutes. I ordered a burger with a side of fries. I was super hungry so I was pleasantly surprised when all of the food (including my friends' portions) came out in just about 10 minutes. I inhaled my food since it wa... read more. The diner and its rooms are wheelchair accessible and thus usable with a wheelchair or physiological limitations, and there is no-charge WLAN. If the weather are right, you can also be served outside. What Tracy M doesn't like about Native Foods Outpost:

Native Foods is usually great, however this new location is in an industrial complex with zero signage. One has to literally guess and go into various buildings to find the place and once you do, it's like bizzaro land. There is no seating, no directions as to how or where to pick up your food and our portions were tiny. Furthermore, I was asking around about if anyone knew where or how to get our food and no one spo... read more. For guests of the establishment, the catering service is also available, there are also delicious vegetarian dishes in the menu. In this locale there is also an large selection of coffee and tea specialties not to forget, The fine sandwiches, healthy salads and other snacks are also suitable for a snack.
