What User likes about Pupusería El Águila: For months I was craving pupusas, and then, yesterday, I found this place, and IT DIDN 'T DISAPPOINT. Its menu is wide and varied, including its Aguas Frescas. They also have a lovely patio area; I recommend you have your meal there. The staff is friendly, and the place is clean. I enjoyed: Loroco pupusa (Salvadoran vegetables with cheese) Jalapeños pupusa (jalapeños and cheese) Beans pupusa Chicharrón pupusa (pork)... read more.

What User doesn't like about Pupusería El Águila:

Was overall really greasy and pretty bland, but the pupusas were okay. They hella overcharged us though for food they didn't bring, claimed that the cost was 110 for 5 ppl when 2/4 ppl didn't even order full plates, ended up having to argue the villas because it didn't list prices and was at least 30 to 40 more than it should have been. Again to reiterate, pupusas were okay still real greasy but yeah everything else... read more. A visit to Pupusería

El Águila becomes even more rewarding due to the extensive variety of coffee and tea specialties, Furthermore, the drinks list in this restaurant is impressive and offers a good and comprehensive variety of beers from the area and from worldwide, which are definitely worth a try. After the meal (or during it), you have the opportunity to still relax at the bar with a alcoholic or non-alcoholic drink, here they serve a diverse brunch in the morning.
