Quite an attractive place. Good service and reasonable prices. The Beef in the Pad See was well done with a unique flavor. The pot stickers were more crispy than my wife likes, I of course like them that way. Interesting table layout. Lots of small plastic containers with a variety of sauces. read more. In pleasant weather you can even eat in the outdoor area, And into the accessible rooms also come visitors with wheelchairs or physiological disabilities. WiFi is available free of charge. What Liz Gray doesn't like about Thai House Vancouver: I ordered Pad Thai, my first time at Thai House. It tasted burnt, was colorless and nearly inedible. So I paid for peanut sauce, which is included at other Thai restaurants. That helped some but the presentation was lacking color since there were no vegetables included, not even carrot or cabbage strips. Not impressed, probably won't return read more. For customers of the establishment, the catering service is also available, Furthermore, the customers love the inventive combination of different dishes with new and partially experimental products - a good example of successful Asian Fusion. If you love flavorful meals, you will find exactly what you're looking for in Thai meals, on the menu there are also a lot of Asian meals.
