It was mother day, so time to pig out.... The usual Chinese seafood dinner and all the usual suspects.... A dinner like this is relatively expensive. We had two tables with the same dishes. The bill total for the foods was about $950. With tips it was about $1,150. However, you get what you pay for. The piglet is kind of a rip off. The wholesale cost of the piglet is about $100. The restaurant charged us about $350... read more. What Jacob Ellis doesn't like about New Capital Seafood:

Attended a wedding that had a banquet here for the reception. The staff was great (efficient, quick, clean), the food was good. However: The menu for the evening clearly states that no foods contain nuts (the bride has a nut allergy) and that the oil used was not peanut oil. When the fried rice comes out at the end, it's topped with peanuts! Really makes you question their allergen safety if they can make that obvious... read more. If you want to spoil your palate with a bit of culinary flair, this is the place to be: The original Asian fusion cuisine of the New Capital Seafood from Rowland Heights - a delicious combination of the familiar and the unexpected, The guests of the establishment also consider the large variety of differing coffee and tea specialities that the establishment offers.
