Oh boy this little hidden gem is the absolute best! I've been to a few delis in New York and Chicago, and this is the first one I've found north of the river that reminisces on those experiences. Everything is tasty and fresh, most of which is made in-house and generously (which might be an understatement) portioned. I personally recommend the Ruben when available, but recently I've become a fan of the muffaletta (get i... read more. The place also offers the possibility to sit outside and eat and drink in nice weather, and into the accessible rooms also come clientele with wheelchairs or physiological disabilities. What Chris Steinke doesn't like about The Italian Sausage Company:

As an Italian who was born and raised there for 30 years I always am on the lookout for a good Italian store, I still have to find one here in KS. Their prices are insanely high but for good products I am willing to spend money. As I walked in there nothing had a price tag on and the person that served us had no clue of the products that were sold there. When I saw that they called themselves the Italian sausage company...
