This restaurant in Cleveland has a strong reputation for its delicious corned beef sandwiches and breakfast options. The staff is friendly, attentive, and provides great customer service. The dining room has a classic 50s or 60s era feel, adding to the overall experience. The food is tasty, generous portions are served, and the corned beef Reuben sandwiches are noted as some of the best in the city. However, some issues arose with older and poorly prepared items like the gyro. Despite these occasional hiccups, the restaurant remains a favorite among many for its nostalgic ambiance, friendly service, and delicious corned beef offerings. Although the hours of operation may be limiting for some, it is overall a fantastic place to enjoy a meal.
