this place again proves my theory that if they have difficulty communicating with the personal, eating will be incredible. this place is super inconspicuous and out of the way, but it's probably the best pizza I've ever had. the right wall as they enter are only pictures of the owner with any celebrity they can think so only to show how good the place is. despite the above mentioned, the pizza is also very affordable... View all feedback. What User doesn't like about Nolita Pizza:

Staff wasn't wearing masks or gloves even when handling already baked pizza. Seems from these reviews that most of their patrons actually like that kind of behavior, which is an interesting twist. Stay away based on clientele alone View all feedback.
