the menu was very clear and helpful (it marked the vegan options with the letter w.) I ordered a delicious stir fry. I didn't try it, but I noticed that they had a chance to create / get used to their own meals. View all feedback. What same concept ad wawa, where they place their order via a computer terminal. then they push around and wait until they call their number. they are often busy at peak times, so they do not expect to be fast in and out. staff are friendly. the restaurant was clean. Eating is good and a nice selection of options. often get false orders. pricey. View all feedback.
